Slow down, you move too fast.
You've got to make the moments last.
Stop to pause and reminisce,
to cherish memories
left behind us.
Moments become ours
to remember or forget.
Each one, filled or wasted,
is ours to live.
Yet there is a new road ahead.
We cannot stop here,
for there's no turning back.
Memorable experiences end
almost before they begin.
Fun times,
novel times,
frustrating times,
become forgotten times . . .
Unless they are captured between the covers of a book —
this book.
Page through your memories and make time stand still.

This business of living was meant to be more than plodding along each day
with head bowed down and eyes on the ground
while time
ticks the hours away.

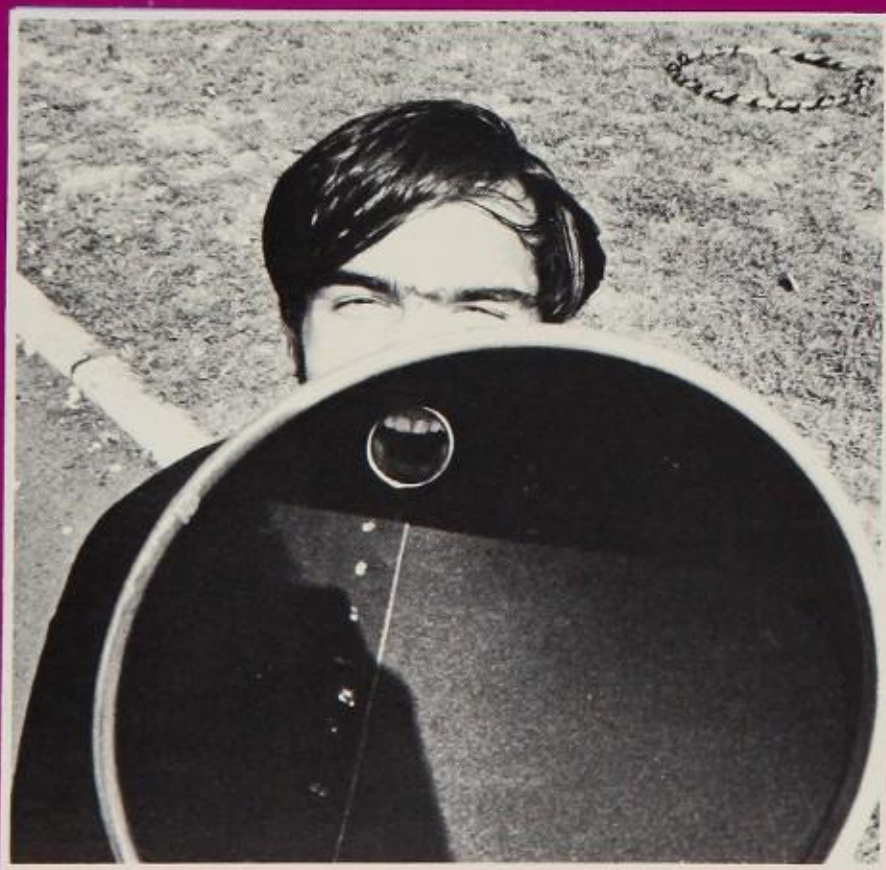

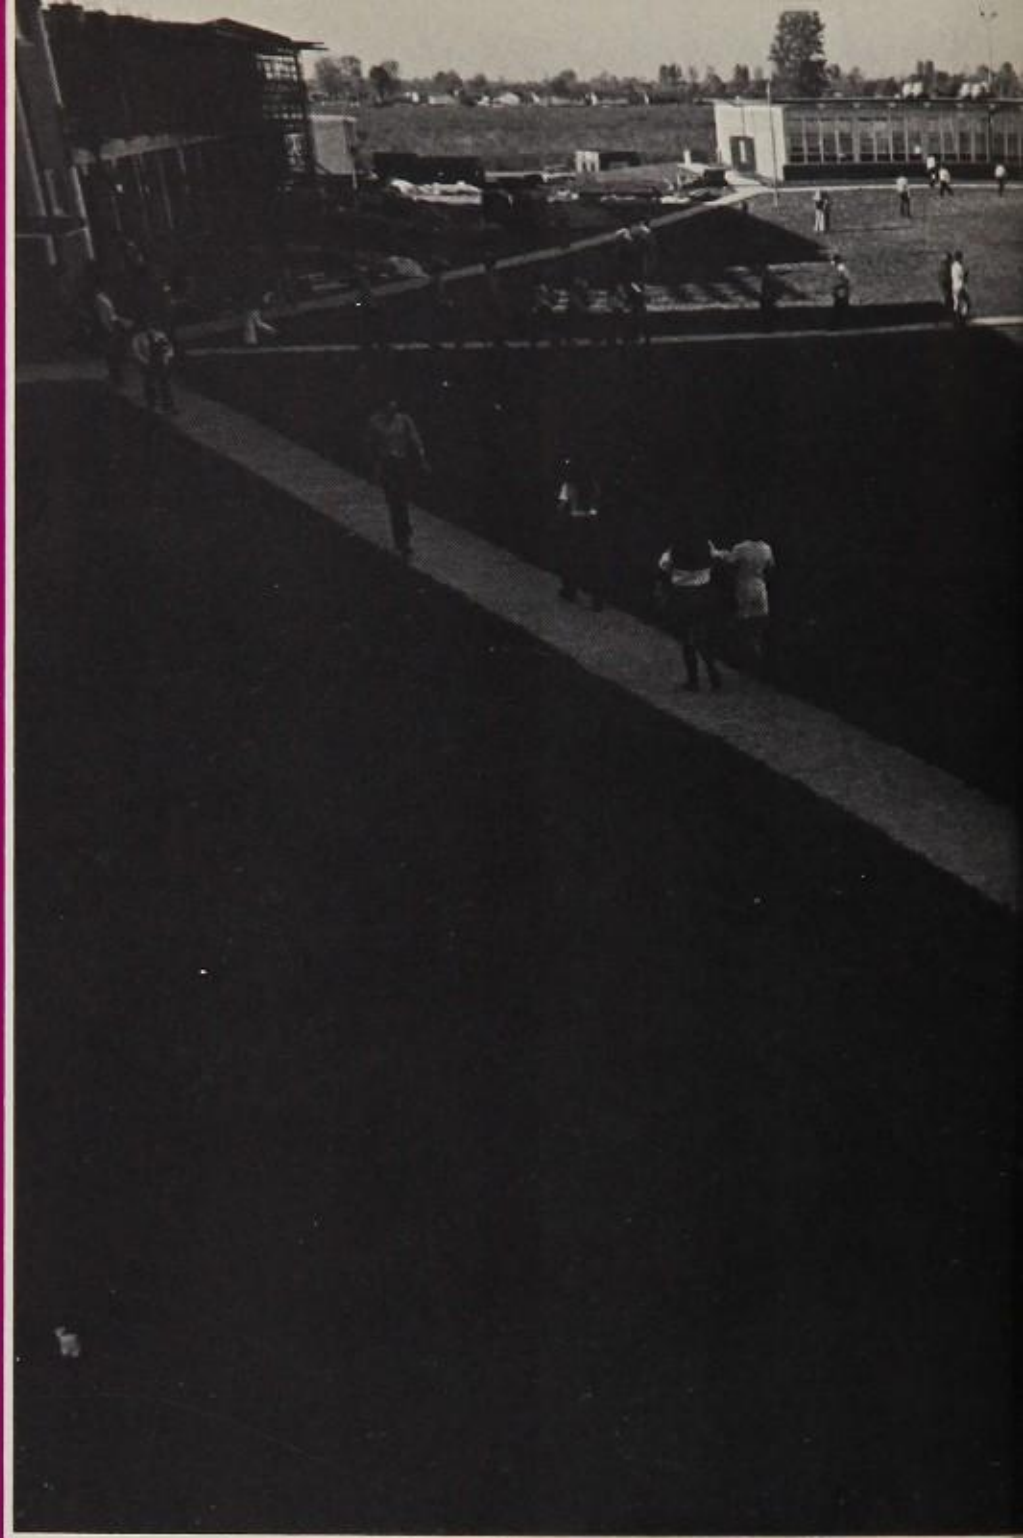

Poetry is not enough
and rhyme no substitute for reason
yet to every man
a time and to everything
a season.

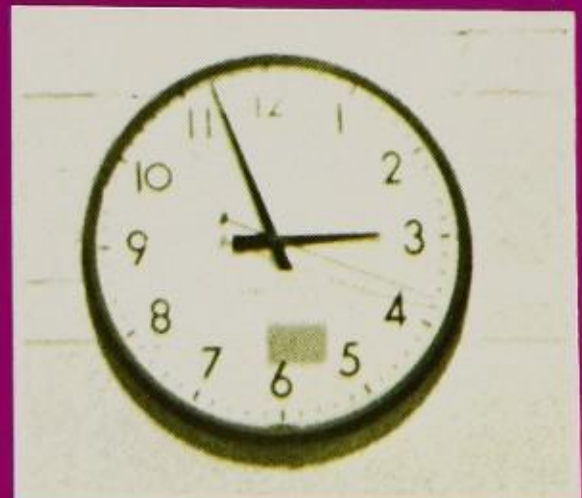

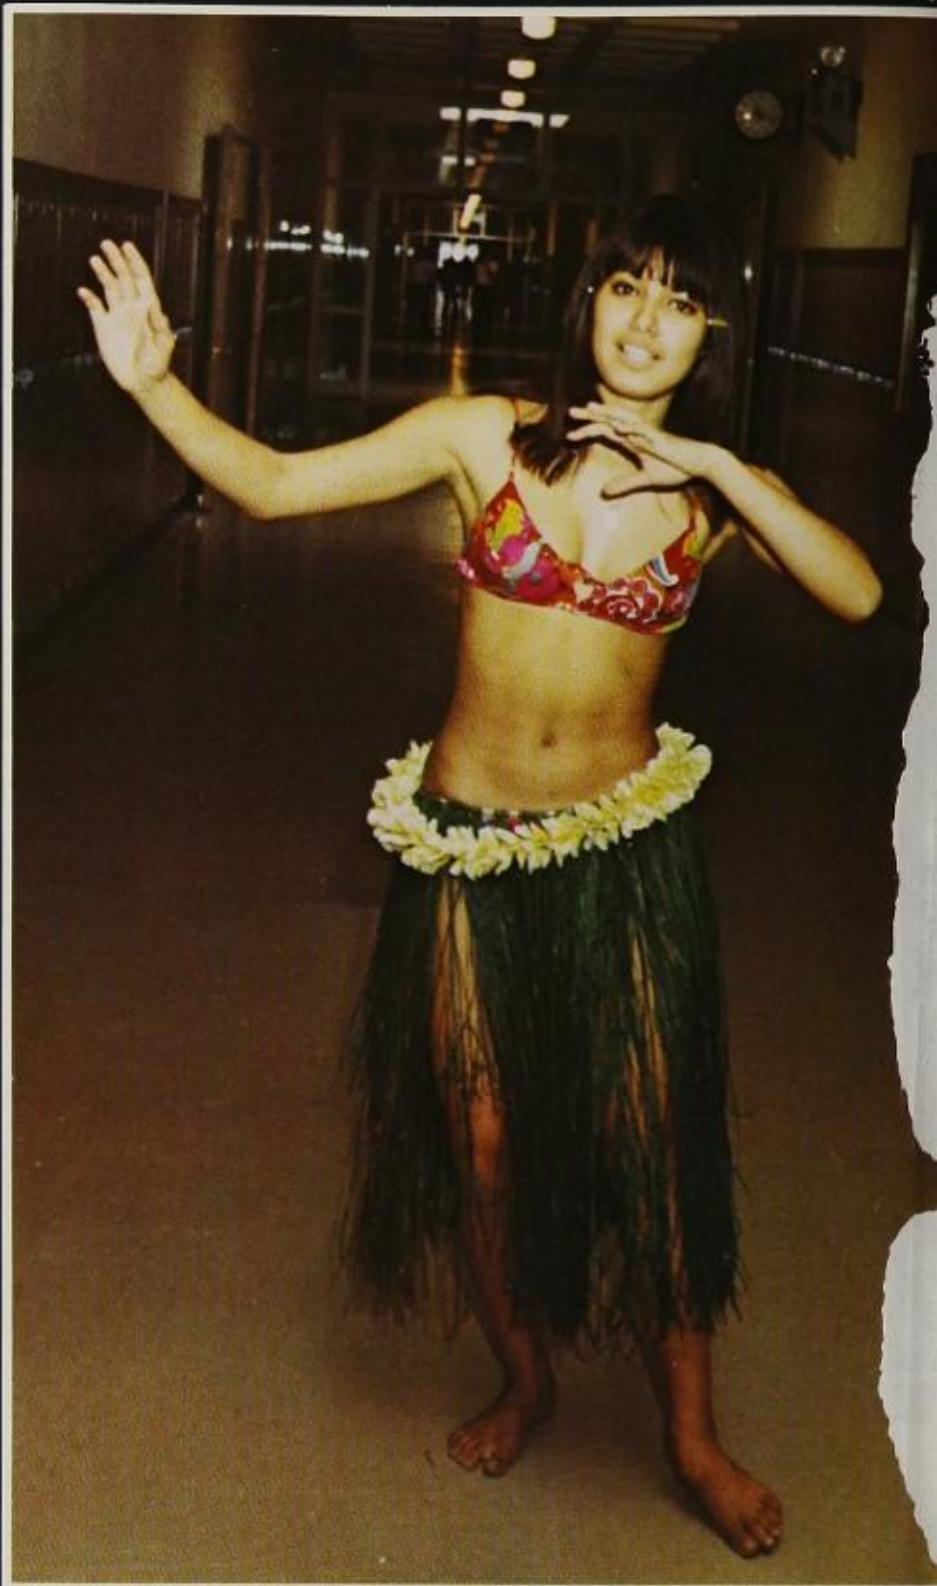

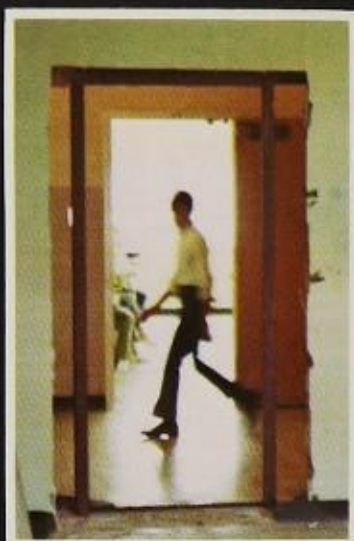

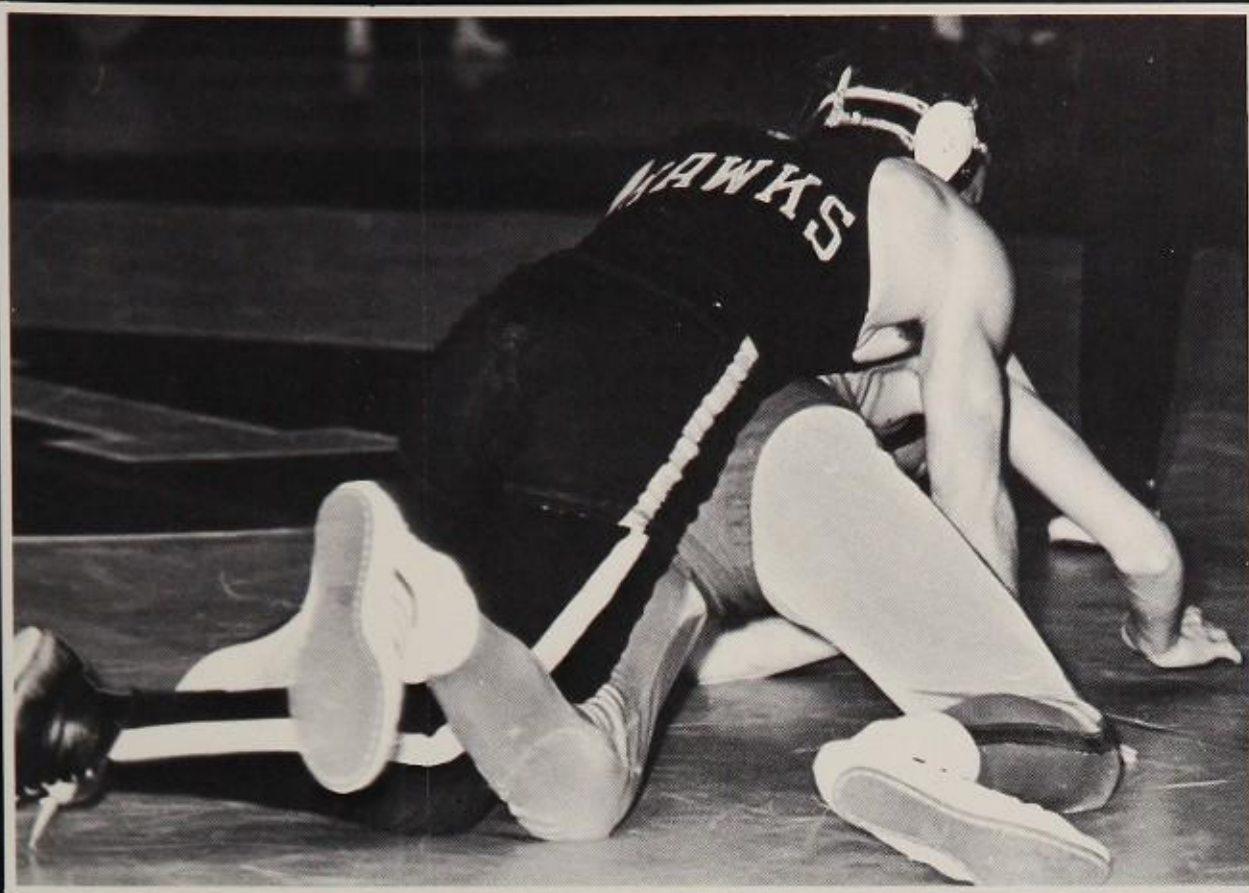

The vaults of the past
tower over us,
and,
walking in their shadow,
in awe, we turn to face
the empty space of the future . . .

Life isn't given us
all of a piece;
it's more like a patchwork quilt —
each hour and minute
a patch to fit in to the pattern
that's being built.

Generation Gap

future

Youth Involvement

Time moved through the 180 days of Hazelwood's 1971-72 school year. It was a quiet time — if any time can be called quiet with 4,500 teenagers milling through miles of corridors, crowding into classrooms, cheering at football games, applauding theatrical productions, and banging lockers between classes.

Yes, it was a quiet time. No great heights, no alarming depths, no spelled out protests, no disruptions of the steady, even rhythm of school doors opening, school doors closing, on the bus, off the bus, lessons learned, some forgotten, dates made, dates broken. And so it went as time moved on at Hazelwood. A quiet time . . . or was it?

Time has a way of bringing about changes, sometimes almost imperceptible, but change nevertheless. And Hazelwood, traditional and conservative as it always has been, changed.

Slowly, but steadily, Hazelwood's students began to awaken to the needs of a changing society. It was not revolution, but rather evolution — an evolution of ideas beginning with student involvement in ecology, politics, fashions, the war, the draft, and the 18-year-old vote. Students realized that the time had come for them to accept the responsibilities of being a part of a changing world.

Opinions, human relations, attitudes, ideas — all began to alter the concept of the small world of Hazelwood. With these ideas came a gradual, almost unnoticeable movement toward eliminating outmoded educational practices and establishing new programs for new interests.

With true concern, students cared about the ecology in such campaigns as the "Save a Polar Bear" drive supported by the sale of bananas. Hazelwood's students also actively participated in the Florissant Action Team for the Environment.

An effort to close the generation gap was made when Health Career Club members visited a nursing home at Christmas and Crackerbarrel girls held a party for young orphans. Future teachers attempted to understand the problems of mental patients as they toured the State School and Hospital.

The problems of society that can only be remedied by getting involved were examined by Hazelwood representatives on the Gene McNary Youth Commission. Students, teachers, and parents attended a drug abuse seminar in Jefferson City which resulted in the introduction of a new program on drug abuse in the Social Studies curriculum.

In a manner similar to that of political candidates, seniors Craig Smith and Cindy Price were aided by funds from their supporters, National Honor Society members, in their attempt to attend the Presidential Classroom for Young Americans in Washington, D.C. While the Pentagon was censoring the printing of governmental war documents, journalism students had a bout with their administration over editorial censorship. It resulted in a stalemate.

Community action included student participation in the Teens Against Dystrophy collections. In an attempt to help a fellow human being and Hazelwood citizen, Distributive Education Club members collected for the medical expenses of Richard Johnson, the victim of a Halloween shooting. The Political Science Club also helped their fellow man by sponsoring a fund raising drive for the family of Robert Fienup, an HHS bus driver killed in a hit-and-run accident.

The Student Council kept Hazelwood in fashion

by winning the approval of a new hair and dress code. Attempting to raise the maturity level of school entertainment, Council members introduced college type activities for the student body by showing old time silent movies and sponsoring rock concerts.

Yet some traditional aspects of school life remained. Social events and basics of the educational programs were continued with few changes. The popularity of dances faltered and a drive to improve attendance was made by changing the themes. The Christmas Dance became the Sweetheart Dance held February 14.

Dress-up days were revived with a new look at the old — the look of nostalgia and the faces of the Fifties. A significant number of new clubs ranging from skin and scuba diving to philosophy were added, allowing students to widen their interests and activities.

And so day followed day — no great heights, no alarming depths. Tradition remained, but evolution had begun. And time alone will tell.

of school year

Preparations for the 1971-72 school year began August 26, when the first of 4,405 students arrived to receive schedules and I.D. pictures.

For some, everything was new and different, but for returning upperclassmen it was the same old Hazelwood with a few minor changes. Speed bumps warned students that traffic was to move slowly, a new administration building was completed, and A and B schools added a new twist to the registration process.

The school year officially began on September 7, but to the surprise of the students, a dispute between the Board of Education and bus personnel resulted in a walkout. Traffic jams appeared throughout the district from the thousands of students who quickly formed car pools. Two days later the hubbub subsided and the hum of a normal school year took its place.

Above ... Even through the roughest day one can find occasional moments of silence and solitude.

Leaving the striped tent to walk slowly down the long, white runway to the center ring, the Homecoming attendants began the coronation ceremony. Seated on their star-studded stools, eight maids waited for the new queen, Kathy Brown. Following the crowning, tears, and roses, the escorts presented the girls with silver football necklaces in memory of the Circus Jubilee. With falling balloons, the spotlight centered on Kathy as her role began with the traditional court dance.

Homecoming '71:

Pep Rally fans kick off big weekend

"Get up and go wild," demanded Coach Richard Gorzynski, and that is exactly what happened at the Pep Rally, Friday afternoon. Although only the Pep Club members attended, echoes of spirit and enthusiasm sounded throughout the bleachers. Crepe paper flowers, painted signs, and costumes on the 24 Homecoming floats soon fell to pieces as an early Saturday morning rain drenched the parade. Towering over their floats, the Junior Class, "Can the Rams," took first place. Organizations following close behind were the Key Club, in second place, and the Senior Class, in third place. The real test of endurance began that afternoon when the Hawk grid men met the Riverview Rams on the muddy Hazelwood field. The performance of the Golden Hawks Marching Band, twirlers, and Hawkettes during halftime was climaxed with the announcement of the 1971 Homecoming Queen, Kathy Brown. Then the spirit of the fans was refocused on the field for the second half of the game. Unfortunately, football was not the name of the game, and the Hazelwood Hawks lost to Riverview, 28-0.

Three ring show comes to life as Circus Jubilee swirls 'round

Under the big top, the Circus Jubilee came to life when the crowds poured in to see the three ring show.

Brightly colored crepe paper and murals set the circus scene with the bleachers converted into a large striped tent. Peanuts, popcorn, and punch were served at the refreshment stand by costumed clowns and acrobats.

Vibrating sounds from Jake Jones provided the hard-rock beat for most of the dance. Jill and Perry played folk songs to fill in the breaks.

Evening attire took on a new look for the semi-formal dance, ranging from hot pants to long quilted skirts.

A basket suspended from a giant red and white balloon provided a carnival-type background for the traditional coronation.

Cheering squads:

Two groups now lead fans in cheering

Deep voices boomed on the cheerleading squad this year as eight yell leaders joined the squad for the football season. The yell leaders performed double stunts and individual gymnastics to further boost school spirit.

The cheerleaders attended Missouri Valley Cheerleading Clinic during the summer where they won four first place ribbons and brought the spirit stick home.

A letter from the camp director gave high praise to the HHS group. It said in part, "Although we have been fortunate to have many fine squads attending, few have, been of the quality of the Hazelwood squad."

Early in November, KMOX-Radio invited the group to cheer for the football Cardinals at Busch Stadium.

Each month Sports Metro Magazine sends out ratings of squads in the St. Louis area. The HHS cheerleaders were rated first in the North County Conference.

Student Council: A two-in-one Student Council unites to attain common goals

The concept of two schools-in-one introduced at Hazelwood in 1971-72 extended into the organization of student government.

For the first time, the Student Council was divided into two separate groups. Although each group represented one school, Councils A and B functioned as one unit striving for common goals.

Probably the number one issue to which the Council devoted most of its efforts was the question of the extent of smoking regulations. Backed by the group, Council President Tom Hunt appeared before the Board of Education to plead for a relaxation of the smoking rule. Even though the smoking recommendation was rejected, the Council was not completely discouraged and continued to work for a liaison between itself and the student body.

Following an interest poll, the Council voted to replace the Christmas Dance with the Sweetheart Dance. However, because of the poor attendance at the Sweetheart Dance and with growing evidence that school dances are becoming a thing of the past, a spring concert, featuring Bittersweet, replaced the Spring Dance.

Pep Club:

Spirit boosters amend bylaws to keep step with current times

Changes highlighted the Pep Club's 1971-72 school year as members approved amendments to the organization's constitution.

One amendment provided for wrestling attendance to be added to the points system. A second revision made it possible for club letters to be awarded on a total points accumulation instead of on an attendance basis.

To encourage greater participation, new members were accepted throughout the year. Membership then climbed to 567.

For the first time, only club members were allowed to attend the Homecoming Pep Rally.

With the two-school system, sophomore leadership in the Pep Club was doubled. Two junior varsity cheerleading squads were elected, giving equal representation to Schools A and B.

Starry-eyed winter court rules under zodiac

In a blend of romance and the zodiac, Hazelwood's winter dance turned to "Love is in the Stars", a theme that reflects the current trend toward the astrology and love-story message.

Love was literally in the clouds for the Sweetheart Dance which replaced the traditional Christmas gala. Blinking strobe lights, creating an illusion of a starry night, guided quests from earth to Mount Olympus, where dancing to the strains of Demian provided the entertainment.

Pink and blue angel hair clouds were used as a background for the royal court. A larger white throne set between a gateway of white pillars provided a setting for King Jim Hibbler to crown Queen Jill Kaelin, thus breaking the tradition of passing the crown from the retiring queen to the new queen.

National Honor Society:

NHS members make the grade in every way

For members of the National Honor Society, the 1971-72 school year was filled with float meetings, parties, and decoration meetings. Activities included working in the bookstore, tutoring other students, and guiding freshmen and PTA members around the school for Open House.

The National Honor Society added many new projects to their list of traditional activities. Among these was a committee to guide transfer students through Hazelwood on their first day of classes. Volunteers sold medallions to help defray expenses for two representatives to attend the Presidential Classroom for Young Americans in Washington D.C.

NHS had its lighter moments, too. Club members made a big splash with their dunking booth at the Spring Picnic. In their premier powder-puff football game, the NHS "Superstars" slaughtered the DECA

"Demons" in a fantastic bout which brought a victorious score of 21-0.

Dr. Thomas J. Lawson was the guest speaker at the installation ceremony in which 137 new members were inducted. The members were selected on the basis of their qualities of scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

Hawk Talk: Responsibility is divided under tri-staffs

The bi-monthly Hawk Talk continued to be published under the shared responsibility of three staffs. A revolving editorship and rotation of page reporters gave each staff member an opportunity to learn all phases of newspaper production.

Although efforts were made by the staffs to relax rules governing the paper's content, the Hawk Talk remained basically an informational record of school events.

Band:

114 people are real brass in HHS band

A band is more than brass and percussion. A band is people, and in Hazelwood's band, it's 114 people, some who play the instruments, some who lead the band, and some who provide the razzle-dazzle.

While the marching band sets the beat, three groups of girls whirl and twirl the batons and flags that spell pzazz to football and basketball half-time activities. The feature twirlers, the majorettes, and the flag twirlers add the sparkle to the Golden Hawks.

More than ever, this year, musicians and performers blended into one large pep rouser when the girls donned their new uniforms. Their uniforms were designed to coordinate with those of the band members by featuring the military look, high collar, braid trimmings, gold buttons, and an emblazoned Hawk.

The majorettes, who are selected annually through tryouts, attended a twirling camp during the summer where they brushed up on skills and learned new routines.

Feature twirling became a double attraction this year with two girls, Debbie Scheffing and Charlene Jones, sharing the spotlight.

Lettermen:

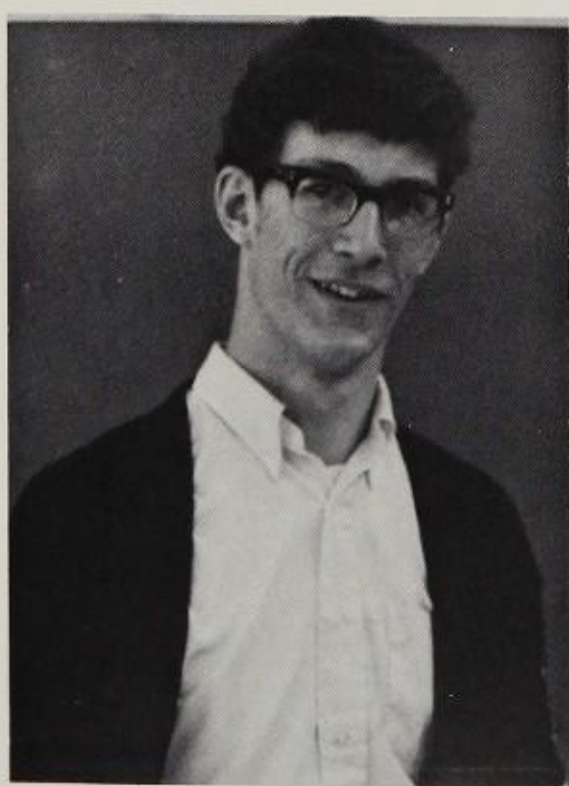

A record 134 varsity lettermen contributed to the team effort

A record high of 134 lettermen reflected not only the physical and mental effort but also the individual and team effort of athletes participating in Hazelwood's eight varsity sports.

At Hazelwood, in order to become a letterman an athlete does not merely go out for a sport. Instead, he must attend all team practices and participate in a required number of games. For example, football requires a gridman to play twelve quarters to letter; while wrestling is based on a points system depending on the grappler's performance.

Although not all teams are winners, a lettering athlete finds personal satisfaction because he contributed to the team effort.

With more than 400 girls participating in extracurricular athletics, the Girls Athletic Association dominated the after-school sports scene.

Members gained grace and co-ordination in gymnastics and modern dance and speed and endurance in track and field hockey. Softball, basketball, and volleyball helped develop agility, strength, and sportsmanship.

For fun activities, the girls made a Homecoming float and challenged their parents to a volleyball game. They also sponsored a booth at the Spring Picnic and held a Mother-Daughter Awards Tea.

In Women's Gymnastics Junior Division, Hazelwood took three first-place ribbons and Best All Around Gymnast category. Track came into its own when Hazelwood hosted its first GAA interschool meet.

New director continues blend of sacred and secular in Choir

A choir reflects the personality of its director. Therefore, it followed that the Concert Choir would take on new sounds when Mr. Bruce Nall replaced Mrs. Nancy Bratz as choir director.

The Concert Choir's repertoire continued to offer a variety of compositional styles ranging from the secular to the sacred. However, the emphasis was on the more serious type of music.

To polish the special techniques needed for the singing of sacred music, the Choir attended a choral clinic conducted by Dr. Martin Moses, professor of music.

In addition to presenting concerts at the high school and the junior high schools, the 60-member Concert Choir joined with the Sophomore Choir in a sacred music concert at the Bellefontaine United Methodist Church. Also collaborating with the sophomore singers, the choir conducted a fund raising drive to purchase choral shells.

Junior Class entertains with southern hospitality

Retiring Queen Karen Tyree

The South, indeed, rose again as the classic grandeur of the ante-bellum days was recaptured by the Class of '73 for this year's Junior-Senior Prom.

Guests were entertained at a typical "Gone With the Wind" mansion complete with Confederate flags, tapestries, and cheerful fireplaces. As Prom couples were formally announced, they entered an elegant ballroom decorated in shades of red and black.

Early in the evening, Lynn Matejcic, John Boyce, Terry Wakeman, and Steve Polk, dressed in Civil War costume, entertained the guests with a graceful Southern-style waltz.

Coronation ceremonies followed. Members of the court ascended a winding staircase and took their bows.

As the excitement of the evening reached its peak, the new King and Queen, who would reign over the Southern belles and their beaux, were announced. Karen Tyree crowned Renee Snyder the 1972 Prom Queen while Retiring King Ted Mahon presented the scepter to Prom King Pete Blake.

The fifth annual Variety Show sponsored by the American Field Service Club brought "The Real Thing" to Hazelwood this year. Taking its theme from the soft drink commercial, the show, like the soft drink, was bubbly and effervescent.

Twenty-three acts ranging from the serious to the comic featuring all student talent were presented to an audience of approximately 700. The proceeds of more than $690 will be used to finance partially the expenses of Cheryl Walsh who will travel abroad in the AFS Summer Foreign Exchange, a program that is a first for Hazelwood. Turnabout Dance: Hall of Famers score flowery honors

America's favorite pastimes teamed up at the annual Pep Club-Lettermen Turnabout Dance to stage Hazelwood's all-sport Hall of Fame.

Each all-star sported a corsage depicting his favorite athletic game. Following a scouting by the Hawk coaches, Dave Payton, Denny Honer, and Bob Schulte were named to the Hall of Fame on the basis of the original and creative corsages designed by their dates.

Red, white, and blue streamers swirled round the band Birth that belted out rousing rock sounds for the 300 in attendance.

Hazelwood's faculty takes the day off on Turnabout Teacher's Day. This annual event provides an opportunity for students to gain insight into the teaching profession.

Over 250 turnabout teachers had the responsibility of preparing lessons, maintaining classroom order, and assigning homework if necessary. A demonstration on the use of chopsticks, a slide presentation and an inter-classroom mural contest were among the activities scheduled in place of lessons. Spring Picnic: Picknickers get first touch of spring fever

Spring fever ran high with excitement and activity as Hazelwood students attended the annual Spring Picnic. No baskets, blankets, or ants were involved but a variety of club booths and games provided entertainment for a pre-summer's day.

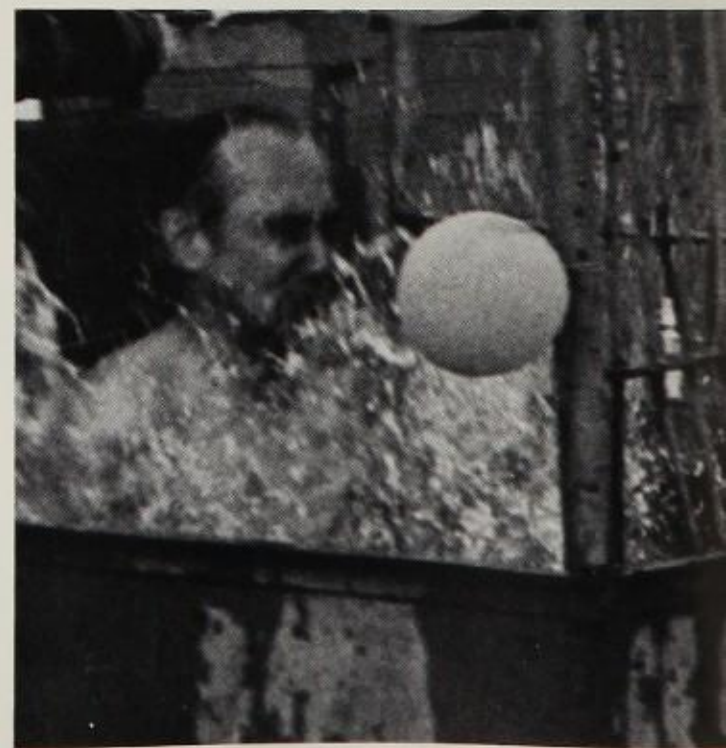

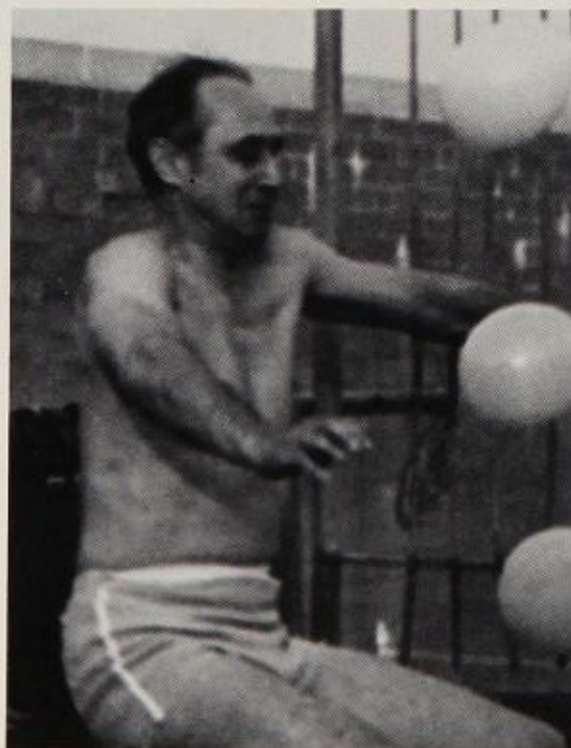

The dunking booth, sponsored by NHS, was one of the more money-making activities. Besides the Dunking Booth, the Computer Dating Booth and the Junior Class Kissing Booth were both well-attended. Biology Club awarded prizes of snakes and rats, along with the regular cuddly cats and dogs, at their animal auction booth.

BROADWAY

Spring Musical:

George M! skyrockets to fame as flags wave and neon signs flash on the Great White Way

A flare of red, white, and blue, the flashing of neon signs on the Great White Way, and the fast-moving tempo of George M. Cohan's incomparable style and music captivated Hazelwood audiences for six nights as "George M.!" sky-rocketed to fame.

The musical, based on the movie "Yankee Doodle Dandy," brings to life the story of George M. Cohan, famous vaudeville performer, playwright, and producer, who became King of Broadway during the early nineteen hundreds.

The real flag waver was Hazelwood's own Rod Reiner, George M. Himself, whose ten years as a dancer and performer in St. Louis's Municipal Opera, raised the level of what could have been just another high school musical to that of a real professional production. Special credit also goes to the other three leads, Dana Milonski, Jama Brown, and Vickie LaMew, and to Mr. Steven Rascher, who put the whole thing together.

The energies and talents of more than 200 people were involved in the musical — supporting actors, musicians, singers, dancers, prop, costume, and make-up people, stage hands, lighting crews, promotional staff, and set designers.

Not only did George M! provide entertainment for more than 4,000 people, but it raised $500 for the PTA Scholarship Fund.

Benefit game:

Bunny players put bounce in basketball

Playing form was different in more ways than one when the Playboy Bunnies took on the PTA officers and the football Cardinals played members of the faculty in a night of basketball, unlike any ever seen by a Hazelwood audience. It was basketball with a few extra bounces.

About the only scoring that went on was the scoring made by the hot pants and the muscular physiques. Basketball may have been the name of the game, but it really wasn't basketball that the crowd came to see.

The evening was a benefit to raise money for the PTA Scholarship Fund Foundation which provides scholarships for outstanding Hazelwood seniors, and over 1,000 contributed toward the total receipts of $1,300.

Color swirls over 1972 TORCH to accent Hazelwood activities

The word was color, Torch staff members learned when they surveyed the likes and dislikes of potential Torch subscribers. So color it was as they whirled the color wheel to mix and match hues and tints for the introduction and division pages. Color also dominates the cover which replaces the more traditional embossed one.

As the student population grows, so does the Torch. Eight additional pages were added to accommodate class sections, and the faculty and academic sections were separated.

Again the staff was divided between two classes with a co-editor elected in each class. Miss Cheryl Wilson was brought in to share the faculty sponsorship with Mrs. Helen Bridgeman, who has served as adviser for the past 14 years.

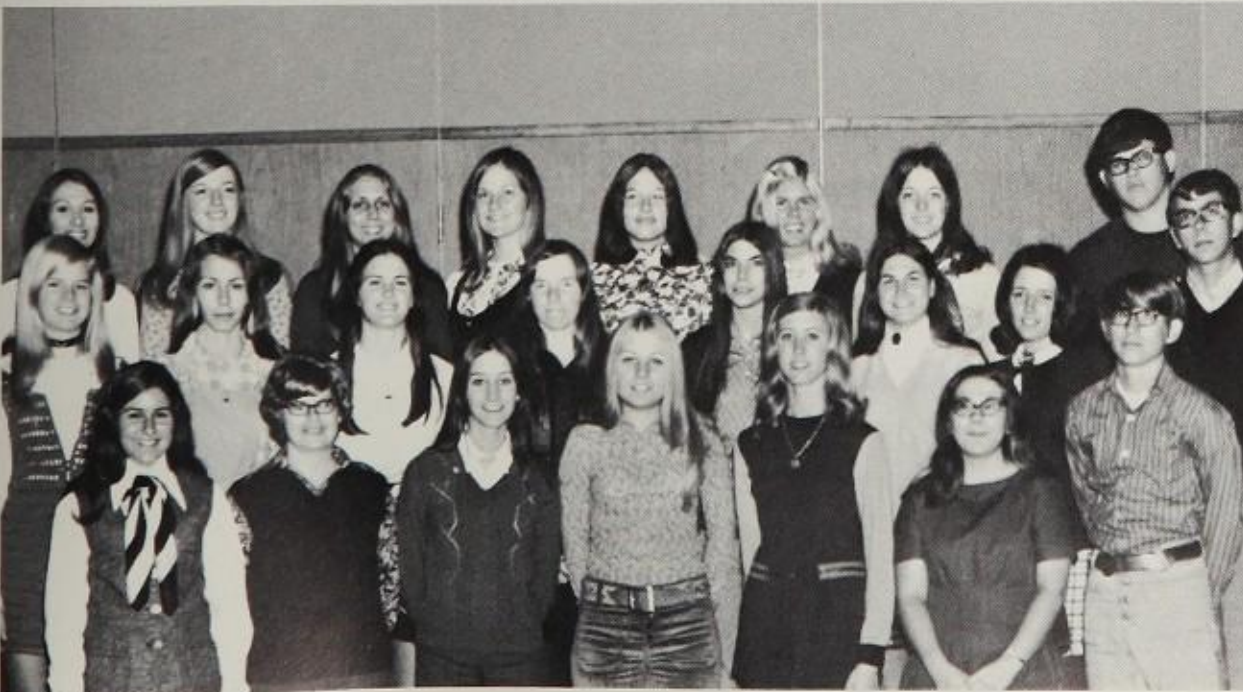

For the first time, the Torch had its own darkroom, well-equipped and staffed by several experienced student photographers.

Winter Play:

Cast toys with glass menagerie in escaping to illusionary world

"This play is a memory . . . I give you truth in the pleasant disguise of illusion . . ."

Mysteriously and with an air of impending tragedy, Jeff Jouett, as the brother Tom, sets the mood for the HHS production of Tennessee William's "The Glass Menagerie."

Drama and the sense of illusion act as guides while each member of the audience is transported to the back step of a rundown tenement in a St. Louis alley. As he is carried on the illusionary cloud, each viewer sees the crippled Laura coddling her glass collection. Alone sits her unicorn, the fragile woman-child's symbol of uniqueness and seclusion from the realistic world.

"Each member of the cast took time during rehearsals to analyze the play," explained Mrs. Rebecca Lamont, director. "They wanted to recreate the characters' relationships to the play. That way, they made each believable and able to stir emotions in the audience."

Thus, the curtain closes, the lights dim, and shadows creep across the stage as one shimmer of light falls on the real glass menagerie.

The Hawkettes, Hazelwood's all-girl march and drill team, delighted audiences this year with their high-stepping routines.

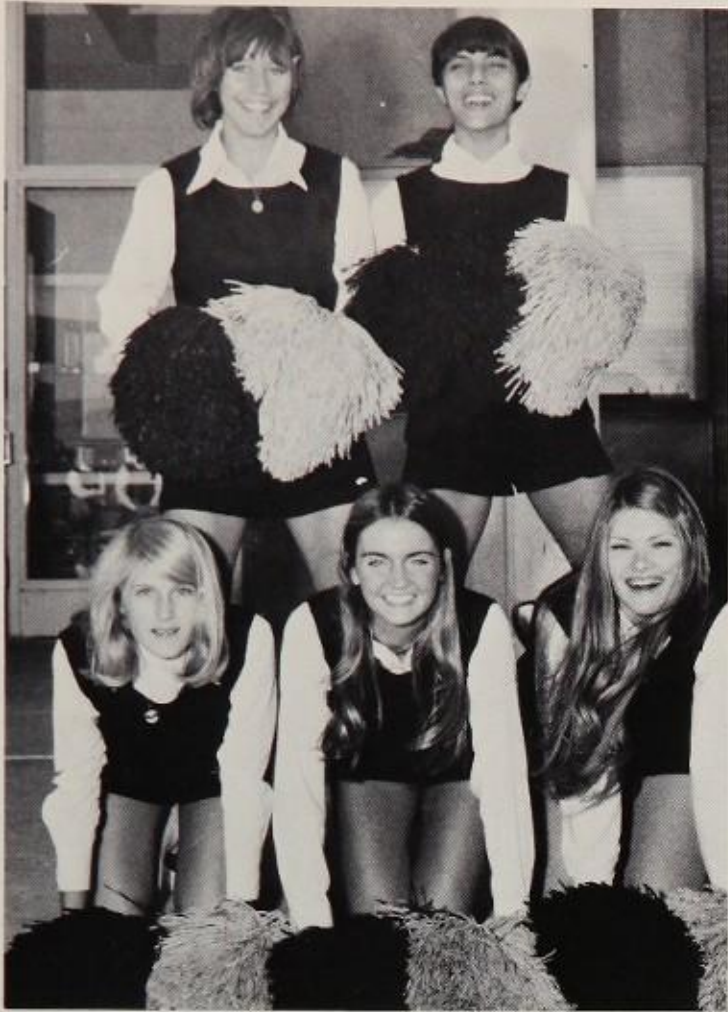

The group's schedule included performances during halftime at home football and home basketball games. Special appearances were made at the PTA Founders Day Banquet and the Playboy Bunny-St. Louis Football Cardinal benefit basketball game.

Composed of 40 girls, the Hawkettes prepare for their performances by practicing after school twice a week for one hour.

Music was in the air as the band gave an outdoor concert to welcome Hazelwood friends and parents to the annual Project Fair.

Inside, exhibits were set up in the gymnasium and classrooms to display academic projects that highlighted the year's curriculum.

The art exhibit included a variety of the mixed media this year with displays of sculpture, crafts, ceramics, paintings, and drawings.

Other exhibits included the Science Fair prize-winning entries, wood and metal products from industrial arts classes, mathematical designs, a student filmed movie, and informal modeling by clothing students.

Hawks numbed by 2-7 record; new coach faces old problems

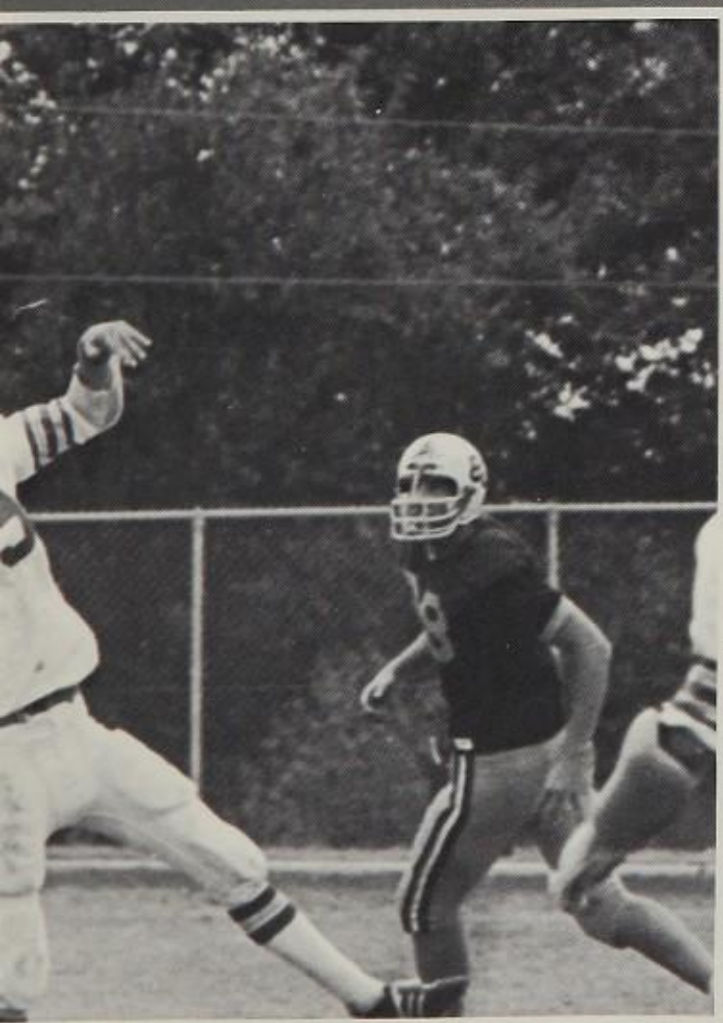

An untried team and a shining new coach led off the season with a victory and high hopes for the season.

Unfortunately, the shine dulled all too soon, and the fresh new team faced the usual old problems — lack of size and too many injuries. Coach Bob Stouffer's job of finding new excuses for old problems and instilling team spirit became more difficult as the Hawks fell to four consecutive opponents.

Then came Homecoming, and hope again rose, but only out of desperation, for the Hawks had never beaten Riverview, and the Rams proved to be as good as ever.

The losing streak might have continued through the season, had it not been for the game against Pattonville. The Hawks had played well against the Pirates in the two previous years, and so odds were in Hazelwood's favor.

However, the Hawks' next game was against the McCluer Comets. The game was rough, as both teams strived to disgrace the other. Unfortunately, it was the Hawks who got their feathers ruffled in the close 18-12 defeat. The season ended with a 29-17 defeat by St. Charles, leaving Hazelwood with a 2-7 record for the year. A sorry ending to a beautiful start.

Suburban North coaches name ten Hawks to Conference Team

Although the team as a whole did not measure up to expectations, the Hazelwood gridmen had a handful of star players.

Ten of the Hawks' players were chosen for the Suburban North Conference Team by conference coaches. Based on their accomplishments as individuals, these players represented the elite players of the North County conference area. Glen Morelli, Craig Hagan, Jon Fults, Steve Bennett, Curt Krebs, Jim Bureman, Dan Allison, and Tom Friend all received honorable mentions. Pete Blake and Ken Seaman, however, were destined for bigger and better things. Seaman received honorable mention on the North All-District Team, and Blake was one of the three juniors selected for the team. Blake went on to make All-Suburban, and later he received honorable mention on the All-Metro Team, which includes all schools in the greater St. Louis area. As a result of Hazelwood's bantam sized team, the Hawks were often underweight and overpowered by opposing forces. However, many seasoned players backed these ten conference standouts.

Football: Soph teams split schedule on gridiron

The '71 Season was an experimental year for the sophomore gridmen. A "two teams are better than one" concept was carried out with the formation of both a sophomore A and B team.

Conference games were divided between the two teams with each squad playing eight games.

Coach Joe Oliva, assisted by Coach Ray Lodes, guided the A team to a 5-3 season. Hal Williams was leading scorer with seven touchdowns and Mark Rickard gained 470 yards.

Team B, under Coaches Harry Gurley and Buster DeLaRoche, had a less rewarding season which ended with 3-5 on the scoreboard. Don Bowman and Ron Parker led the offense with each gaining over 400 yards. Parker also returned 300 yards on kick-offs and punt returns.

The only state contender from Hazelwood, junior Tri-Captain Alton Davis continued to prove his great running ability by taking ninth in the Missouri State Cross Country Meet. Davis also broke the old Hazelwood record of 11:31, held by Bob Faber, with an impressive time of 11:01 at the Ritenour-St. Charles meet.

HHS harriers took off with a running start as four returning junior lettermen, including the three captains, Alton Davis, Dan Hayes, and Jim Skellett, plus Bill Blankenship, guided the team. The team received first at the Edwardsville Invitational, where Davis, Skellett, Jim Brocksmith, Hayes, and Rich Buhr won individual trophies for their outstanding performances. The harriers also placed third in conference and fourth in district.

The team ended the season with a 7-2 record. "This year's team has been the best Hazelwood has ever had," stated Coach Sidney Phillips.

Matmen grapple way to 5-5-1 and second place in conference

Some teams lose because of a lack of spirit, while others lose despite hard efforts to win. A common cause that is most responsible for a losing team is a lack of experience.

As Coach Stan Henderson stated, "It was a young team and we knew we didn't have the potential for state." With only one senior starter, the Hazewood grapplers put up a good fight ending their season with five wins, five losses, and one tie. The matmen also took second in the Suburban North Conference and third in the Regionals carrying Joe Zuccarello to state.

With the return of eleven lettermen, Coach Henderson hopes to improve on the high quality of the team that will have the ability to take the state wrestling championship.

During the '71-'72 wrestling season, Joe Zuccarello and Frank Cusamano showed that they were Hazelwood's most valuable grapplers. Their records were fairly fantastic. Joe scored with a 20-5-2 record and Frank showed his skill with 20-3-2.

The "Zook" carried the Hawks into state at Kansas City. Although Joe lost his first match, he is only a junior and, therefore, can take another crack at it next year. "Of course I'm disappointed we didn't take state," stated Coach Stan Henderson. "But as I expected, this turned out to be a rebuilding year."

Cagers rebound with second in regional tourney

During the '71-'72 season the Hawk cagers compiled a 10-11 record and finished second in regional competition.

For only the third time at Hazelwood, Coach "Papa" Joe Weis's cagers advanced to the regional finals after defeating Berkeley and Riverview. Because of the two previous wins during the season over McCluer, an optimistic coach and team faced the Comets in the regional final. The optimism quickly faded as the Comets earned a berth in the state tournament by downing the Hawks 54-46.

All-Conference forward Dale Hoette, leading rebounder and top scorer with over 300 points, led the team to a three-way tie for second place in the Suburban North Conference.

Coach Daryl Hayes's Sophomore A team maintained a slight edge over their losses with a 9-8 season. With a total of 183 points, Skip Seitrich was highpoint man for the team followed closely by Ken Lee.

league crown

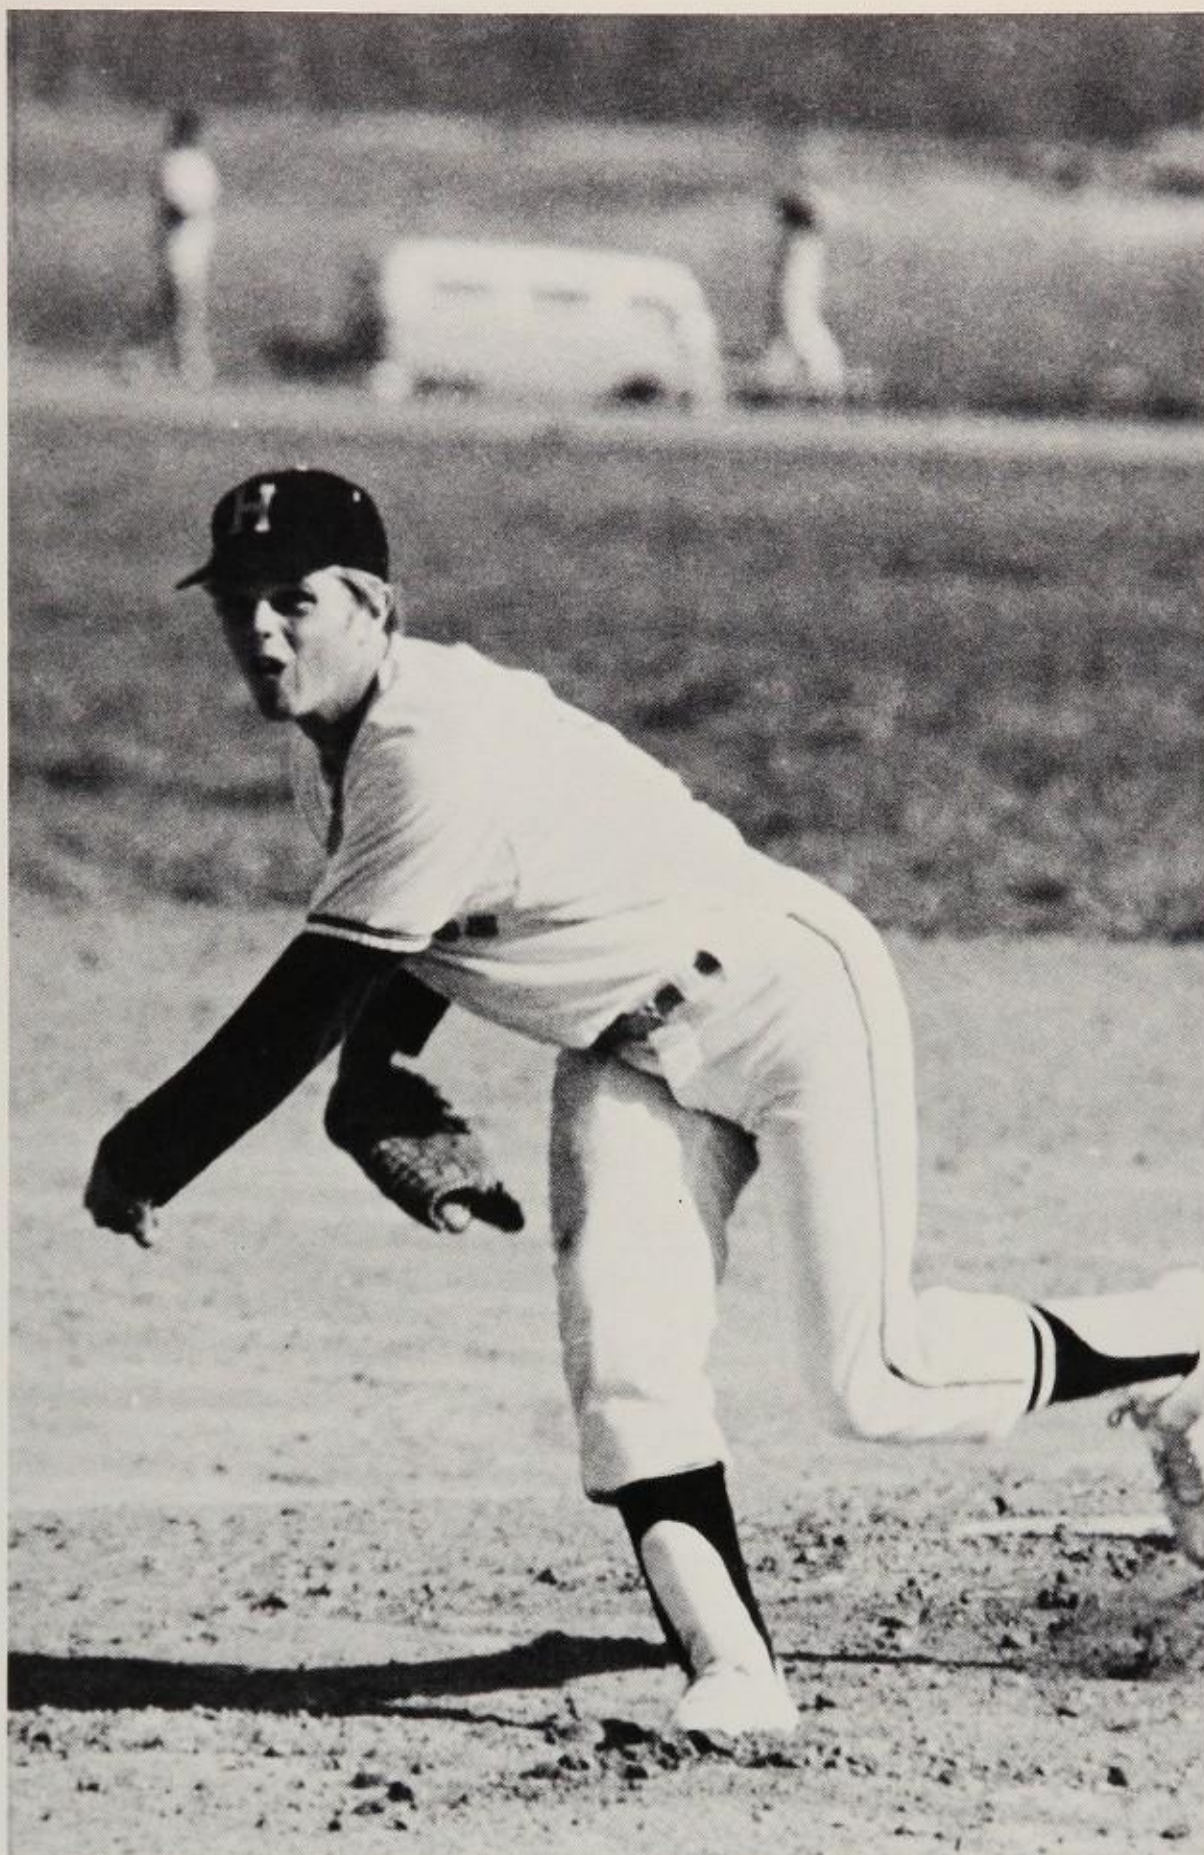

For the first time in Hazelwood's history, the baseball Hawks won the coveted Suburban North Conference Championship.

After a two-year leave of absence, Harry Gurley returned as head mentor and, using a new baseball running philosophy, directed the Hawks to a 20-2-1 season.

Senior Steve Hagar, selected as the Hawks' most valuable player, led the team in hitting with a .399 batting average. Hagar, a shortstop, also pounded out 21 RBI's.

The diamond nine also benefited from a solid pitching staff. The four starting pitchers, Bob Evans, Denny Olsen, Mark Lynn, and Steve Bennett, shared an ERA of 1.34. Olsen posted a 7-0 season while Lynn went 4-0, Evans 3-0, and Bennett 3-2.

Although undefeated in conference play, the team went down to McCluer in the semi-finals District.

Racketeers tie with McCluer for the Suburban North crown

For the third year in a row, the Hazelwood tennis team took or at least shared the Suburban North Conference crown. After having sole possession of the title in 1971, this year the Hawks deadlocked with the McCluer Comets.

Under new head coach Don Newton and assistant Richard Rauch, the netmen volleyed to an 11-2-1 season and placed second in the annual Conference tournament.

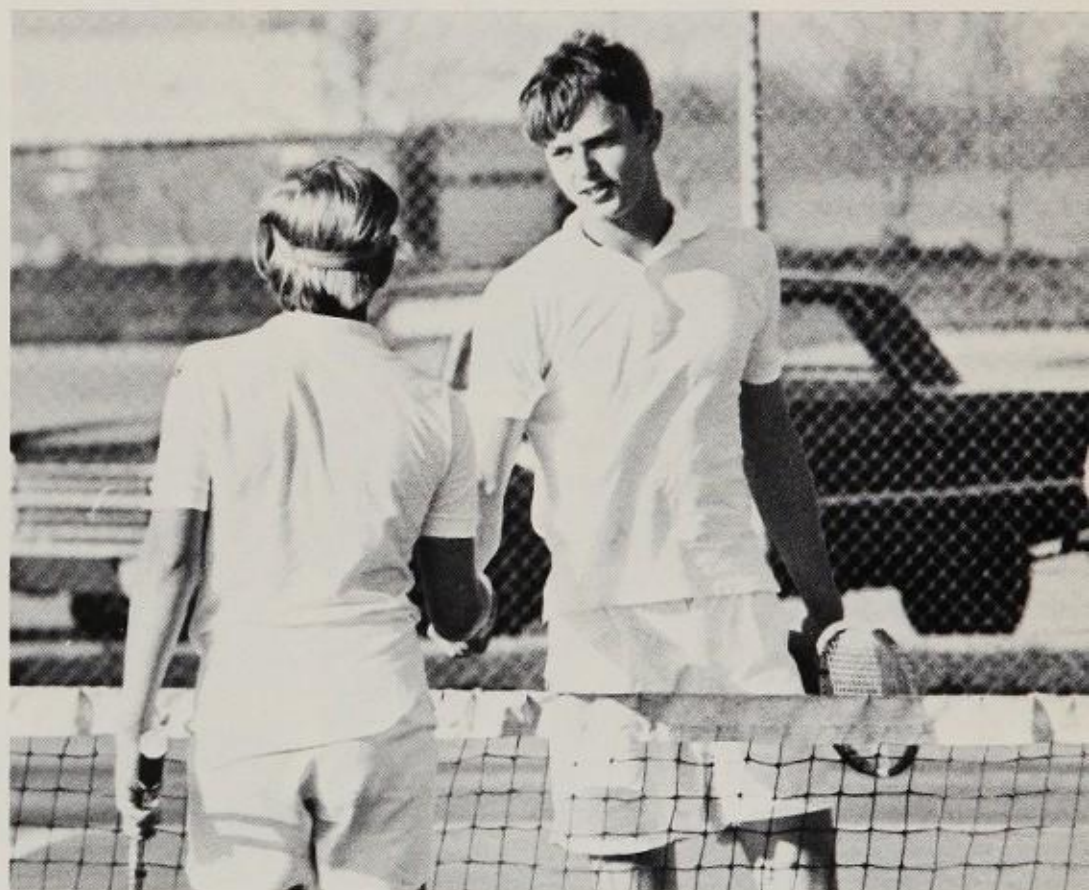

With only three returning lettermen, the team standouts were tri-captains Tom Minogue, Ken Mc-Kinnis, and Mike McManus.

In the singles division, McKinnis and McManus both netted 11-1 records while Minogue went 10-2.

As a doubles team, Minogue and McKinnis took second place in District and advanced to the state meet. In the single elimination at state they were defeated in the first round by the duo from John Burroughs High School.

Junior John Johnson, selected as the Junior Varsity's most valuable player, led the JV team to a 4-2 season.

Season drive for sandtrappers takes third place in conference

The 1972 Hawk golfers finished the season above par with an 8-4 record and third place in the Suburban North Conference.

Under new head coach Frank Ward, the sandtrappers ranked fourth in the annual Suburban North Conference Tournament and tied for twenty-fifth in the District meet.

Although no new Hazelwood records were established this year, the golfers were paced by captain Rick Billings. Billings, whose season average was an outstanding 39.5 strokes on a nine-hole course, was medalist 11 times during the 1972 season.

Other low men for the team included underclassmen Bill Moretti and Mike Steele who averaged 41 strokes per match. Moretti, a sophomore, also shot a 36 at the Paddock Country Club for the team's lowest round of the year.

As the best track team in Hazelwood history, the 1972 Hawk cindersmen raced to second place in the Missouri Class L High School Outdoor Track Meet, first place in the North District, and first place in the Suburban North Conference.

With a record 16 boys qualifying, the Hawks' second place finish in the State meet at Columbia was the best performance ever by a Suburban North team.

Hawk standouts, John Petroff and Dan Miller, paced the Hawks' performance with first places in the shot put and discus.

The two-mile relay team consisting of Larry Pierce, Alton Davis, Dan Hayes, and Jim Brocksmith broke the school record by six seconds to win the second place medal. Third place medals went to the mile relay team and to Pete Blake in the 180-yard low hurdles.

Besides the new school record of 7:58.9 by the two-mile relay team, five other school records were shattered during the season. Bob Seaman topped the pole vault at 13'6" while Petroff heaved the shot put 57'9". Mike McIntyre sprinted the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.8 and the mile relay team ran a blistering 3:21.4.

Social Studies:

Mazes, ESP, games, plays, movies make history

From world history to sociology, students and teachers combined their efforts to the learning experience.

Plays, written and presented by the students themselves, lent an air of originality to many classrooms. Social Psychology students had the opportunity to experiment with mazes and ESP. Juniors simulated real life situations in American history during such games as "Panic" and "Sunshine." In a few cases, teachers yielded their places behind the desks to students who lectured to the classes.

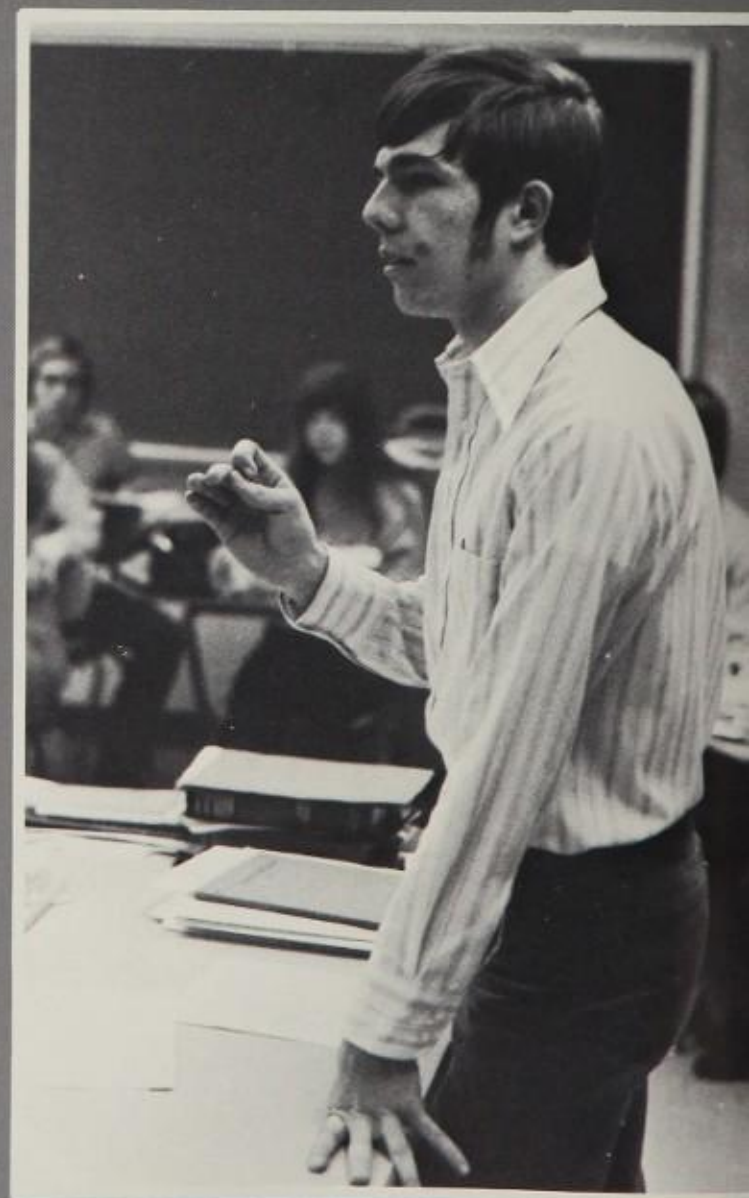

In accordance with a new Missouri law concerning drug abuse education, the Social Studies Department implemented a program geared to combat what has become the number one social problem by using a new curriculum supplemented by lectures, guest speakers, and films.

Science:

Revised curriculum emphasizes individualized student activities

Converting to a program of behavioral objectives, the revised science curriculum focused on individualized study which encourages student initiative and self-discipline.

Under this program, each student has access to several levels of texts which challenge his achievement. This approach enables the student to pursue his own level of competence by actively participating in laboratory situations, research projects, and field trips.

Another area of concern in the Science Department centered around the present and controversial ecology problem. Classes were often moved out of doors so that pupils could witness occurrences within the environment.

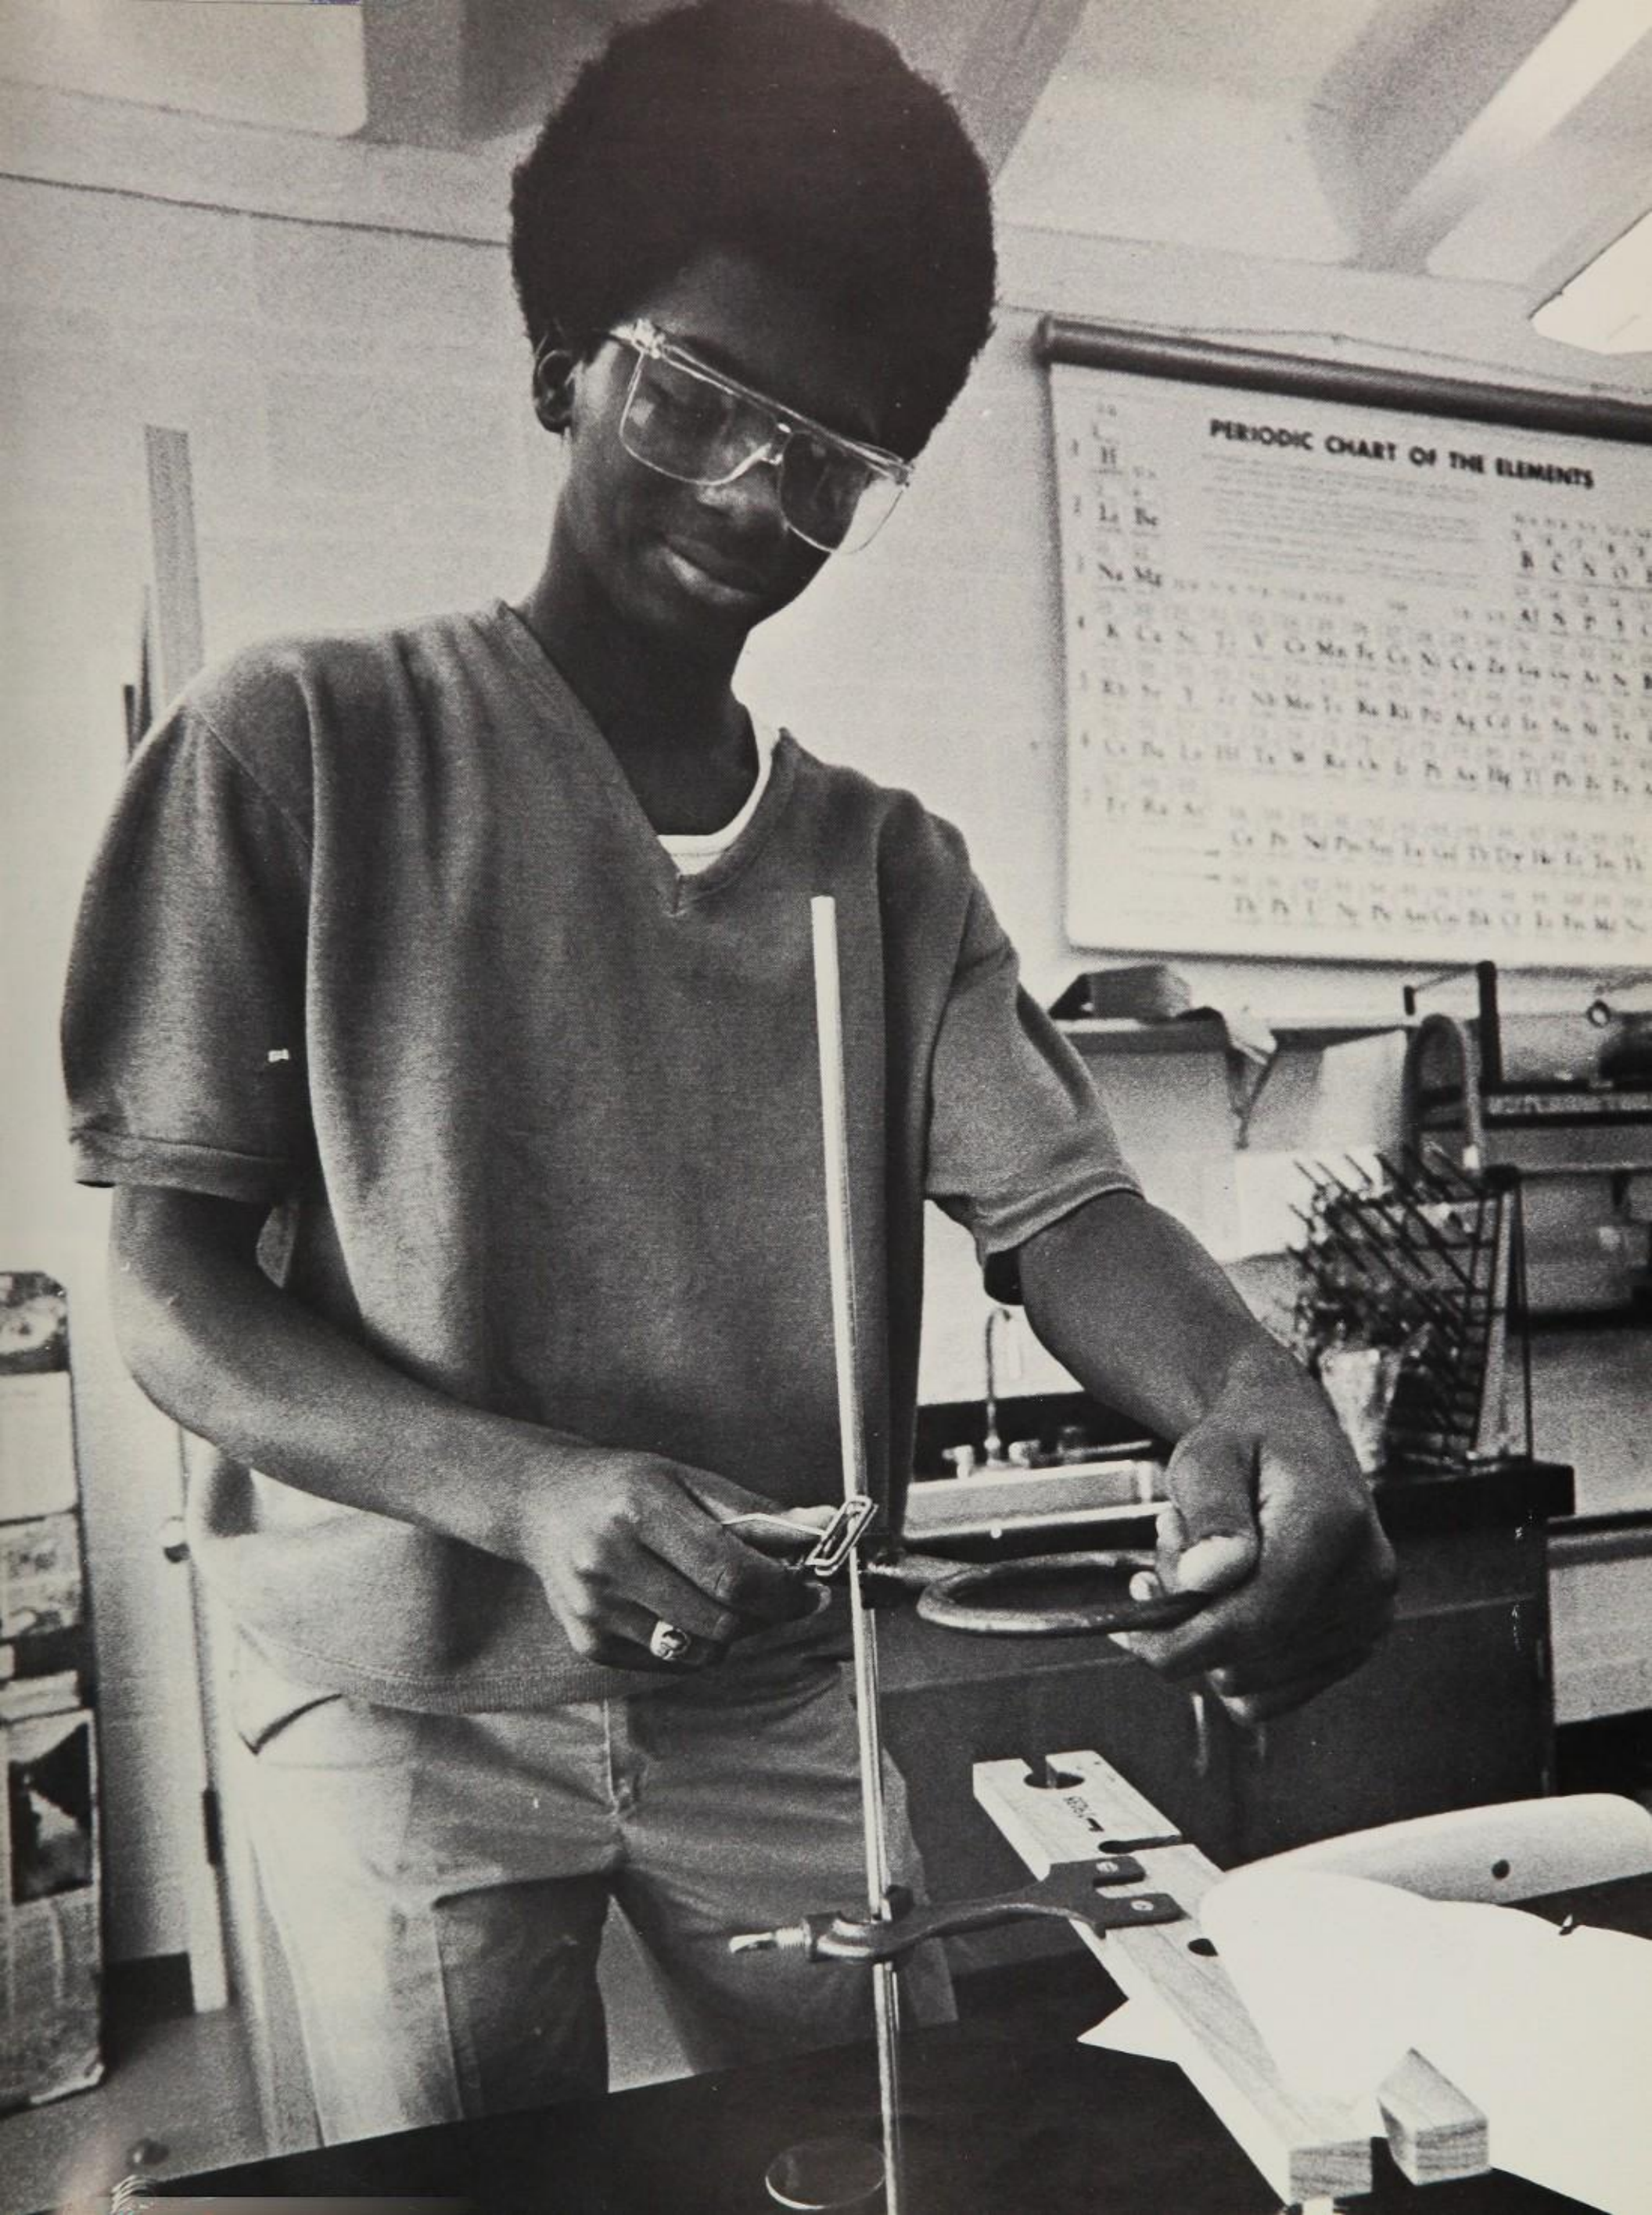

Laboratory aides were added to the department this year in order to assist the science teachers with their busy schedules.

English hours

With a touch of the supernatural and the ultra-modern, students of English literature, composition, and grammar were taught in a coordinated combination of old and new programs.

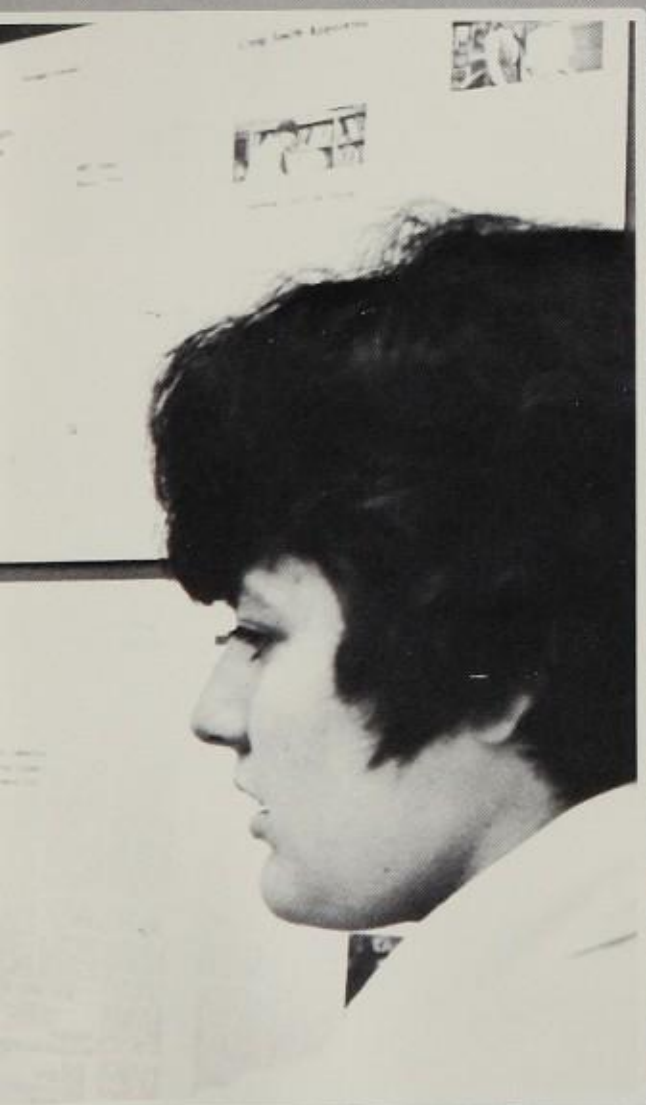

Seniors communicated with their language through innovating courses in rock poetry and cinematography while examining Western writers of the past. Juniors delved into the mystic spirits of the witchcraft of old Salem in their study of "The Crucible" and experimented with art forms of the future through multimedia. Sophomores reacted as future jurors in their production of "Twelve Angry Men" and relieved the day-to-day drudgery of grammar by individualizing their study with pre-tests and work cards.

Remembrances of writers of long ago studied in methods of today were created in all levels of the three English classes.

Foreign Languages:

International flavor enhances foreign language department

Remember a world growing smaller through fast air transportation and international events? Students of French, German, Latin, and Spanish became closer to other nations by learning not only a second language, but a second culture, and a second people, too.

Interested students adopted the French culture through their plays and comic books. German students had a taste of their country's customs in food, as did those studying Latin with their Roman feast. Lecturers and video-taped programs aided Spanish students in discovering Spanish customs. An international feeling was established at the annual Christmas song competition where students of all four languages experienced a cultural exchange.

Physical Education:

New chairman accelerates gym program

As the new chairman of the Physical Education Department and Athletic Director, former head football coach Ron Wiggins set new long range goals for the department that he hopes will ultimately accelerate the P.E., Drivers Ed, and health programs and give more students opportunities to participate.

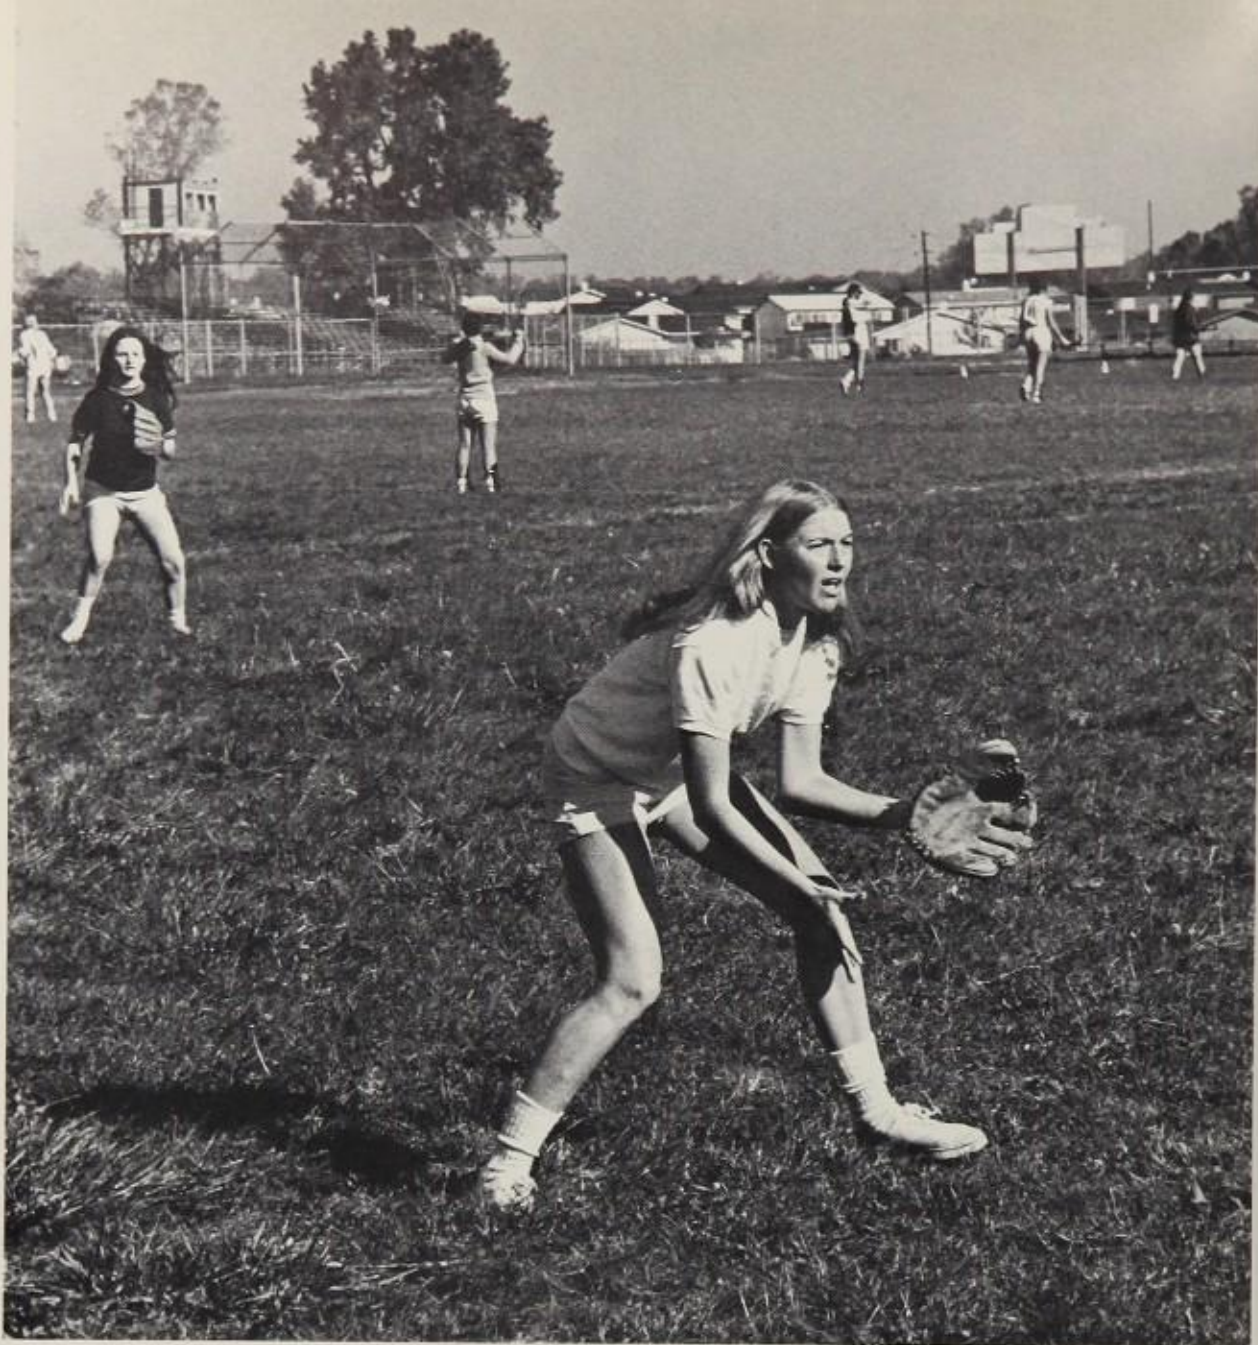

A second personnel change was made when Mr. Dwight Hensley filled the newly created position of chairman of Drivers Education.

Major changes in the physical education areas were concerned with the addition of more intramural activities for boys, the establishing of a sophomore girls' tumbling program, and the shifting of boys' hockey to the tennis court.

Intramural sports continued to gain popularity. Hockey proved to be not only the most popular intramural activity for boys but for girls as well. About 300 boys went out for a modified form of street hockey, while 190 girls participated in the GAA field hockey program. All totaled, more than 1,200 took part in intramural sports.

An expanded drivers education department made it possible for more than 1,600 students to become more proficient behind the wheel. Two new teachers were added to the staff, two classrooms and two simulators were used to capacity, and a fleet of eight cars and three spares were operated.

Minipaks, a teaching method introduced into the Business Education Department this year, helps the individual student learn and work at his own rate of speed. This method has made it possible to give individualized study to approximately 3,513 students enrolled in business related subjects.

To facilitate the Minipak concept in shorthand, a portable radio operated shorthand laboratory was purchased. It operates on four speed levels and allows the individual to take dictation at his own speed.

The department is staffed by 15 teachers and five Cooperative Occupation Education coordinators. Business Ed offers 14 courses which provide training and work experience for the business world.

Music:

Dave Lewis, Jessie Johnson, and Debbie Koschoff, three of the nine clarinet players, make beautiful music together during band practice.

The Music Department continues to be a popular area of Hazelwood life. Choirs, choruses, bands, and music theory classes combined to give approximately 800 students an opportunity for music education. These courses can be used to satisfy the fine arts requirements.

A new Concert Band, consisting of a selective group of talented students, under the direction of Mr. Ron Thomas, was organized. It performed at Hazelwood's many assemblies and also combined with the Varsity Band to march and play at sports events.

Of the 96 members enrolled in the bands, ten musicians were selected for the St. Louis North County All-Suburban Band.

The Concert and Sophomore Choirs joined efforts to sell soap to buy choral shells for the use of all musical groups.

Fine Arts:

Art appreciation is by-product of exploring individual creativity

No longer are fine arts students at Hazelwood sitting back and doing what used to be called the appreciation of the arts. Appreciation is now the end product of involvement.

Art students now may try their talents in sculpturing, ceramics, printmaking, crafts, drawing, and painting, while those in allied arts bring all the arts together as they combine studies of music, literature, the visual arts, and the theater.

Speech, debate, and drama students listened to themselves and to each other in the study of oral communication as they turned to acting, directing, movie making, radio broadcasting, and television scripting and producing through the use of the closed circuit television.

More than one half of the total school population travels daily down Halls B and C to take one or more of the ten courses included in the Industrial Arts Department curriculum.

Accommodating 2,285 students, the department offers fundamentals of drafting, mechanical drafting, engineering drafting, fundamentals of metal, metal processing, metal machining, fundamentals of electricity, applied electricity, home mechanics, and wood processing.

Although fundamentals of electricity has the largest enrollment with 423 students, girls home mechanics is the most popular. Several hundred would-be enrollees are turned down because of lack of space.

One of the best equipped industrial arts facilities in the area, the department this year added eight new drafting machines and a new foundry furnace, a unit in which gray iron can be used in castings.

Preparing for the future is the main goal for the many students in the Home Economics Department. Most students are eager to learn what will be expected of them when they marry and raise families.

Before constructing a garment, clothing students are made aware of fashion trends, history, and appropriate personal style lines. Then they must put their knowledge to use along with mastered skills and sew their own original garments.

Enterprising young cooks aspire to prepare attractive and tasty meals. Most of the meals are edible, some are not, but the results are usually a little better the second time around.

With approximately half of the student body enrolled in its courses, the Mathematics Department continues to be one of the strongest areas at Hazelwood.

The curriculum this year included Functional Math, Algebra I, Geometry, Algebra II, Trigonometry, Math Analysis, and Math Concepts. A course in computer programming was offered, but not enough students enrolled in it to make a class.

The computer program, however, will be offered again next year, and major curriculum changes will be initiated. Math Concepts, the most advanced course now taught, will be discontinued and replaced by calculus and analytical geometry. These courses will be offered for advanced placement on a yearly basis. New courses in probability and statistics will be offered on a semester basis.

Three new instructors were added in the Mathematics Department. They are Mrs. Cheryl Flaherty, Miss Karen Showmaker, and Miss Janice Wilson.

HHS adopts a school-within-a-school concept to preserve the identity of the individual student

Mr. Laurence J. Fuqua
Principal

With a student population of approximately 4,400 housed in a building with some 12 blocks of corridors, Hazelwood, the largest secondary school in Missouri, had problems in maintaining the identity of the individual student.

To prevent what could have been a computerization of the human factor in education, a school-within-a-school concept was adopted. The senior high school was divided into two basic educational units, called simply School A and School B. Assistant principals were placed in charge of each administrative sub-unit, with Mr. Laurence J. Fuqua directing the operation of both schools.

Assignment to the individual schools was made on a geographical basis with School A reporting for the early session at 7:30 a.m., and School B, at 8:30 a.m. Each school was contained within separate corridors of the building with students leaving their particular school only for activities held in common areas such as the library, cafeterias, study halls, and specially equipped classrooms.

Hazelwood's Staff Of 1.195 Keeps Quality In Education

Dr. C. O. McDonald
Superintendent

Although the Hazelwood School District continued to be faced with problems of overcrowding, the 1,195 members of its professional staff and the Board of Education still made quality education its goal for the district's 18 elementary schools and four secondary schools.

The district reached a peak enrollment of 24,601 students. Two new elementary schools were under construction, second floors were added to others, and another wing to the senior high school was near completion.

Staff additions included the employment of physical education teachers, instructional specialists, and librarians in the elementary school. The number of teacher aides was increased, and para-professionals were brought in to handle the study halls in the high school.

Class of '74:

Sophs choose a double set of '72 officers

Lead by two separate sets of officers, the Class of '74 brought a new look to student government. With School A and School B having a total enrollment of 1,742, or 38 per cent of the entire student population, sophomores maintained an edge over upperclassmen.

Headed by Vance Martin, president, School A entered a "'74 Spirit" float in the Homecoming parade, and a group visited Christian Northwest Hospital for Christmas caroling.

School B contributed its efforts to the class under the leadership of Terry Wakeman. Glass was collected to raise money for candy which was distributed to orphans on St.

Valentines Day.

Pooling their efforts with the painting of the football tower and the selling of '74 class pins, sophomores once again displayed their enthusiastic "'74 Spirit."

Top ... School A Sophomore Class Officers
... Vicki Daniels, treasurer; Vance Martin, president; Debbie Callahan, vice-president; Jill Kincaid, secretary.

Right ... School B Sophomore Class Officers
... Libby Wolf, co-treasurer; Terry Hansen, vice-president; Terry Wakeman, president; Shirley Klos, secretary; Sandy Binger, co-treasurer.

Sophomores pack bleachers at two Student Council assemblies held to welcome Class of '74.

Class of '73:

Junior Class shows that number two

Being number two is not an easy job for juniors who are determined to outdo sophomores and to reach the heights of seniors. Nevertheless, the Class of '73 found no difficulty in setting the pace early in the year.

First place in the annual Homecoming parade was awarded to juniors who had constructed a "Crampbell's soup can with the slogan, "Cram the Rams." Juniors also broke tradition ordering their senior rings early and receiving them in January. Past classes received their rings at the end of the school year after the class above them was graduated.

Then Prom time came, and they used their imagination to develop the theme, "Gone With the Wind."

Months of diligent work ended as the gymnasium was glamorized into a striking southern ballroom with guests dancing under a sparkling chandelier.

Junior Class Officers . . . Jerri Buckner, vice-president; Jennifer Lewis, president; Ann Matejcic, secretary; Lynn Matejcic, treasurer.

Class of '72

The largest senior class in Missouri

Senior power surged throughout Hazelwood as " '72 Rules" became a slogan for the largest senior class in Missouri.

Numbering 1,248, the Class of '72 utilized most of its time raising money for the senior gift. In an all-out campaign to gain funds for outdoor concrete benches, the seniors sold black and gold '72 Rules buttons. They also sold grub shirts, senior jerseys, and mementos.

Although much time was spent on business affairs, the Class of '72 continued to show its scholastic ability by leading the honor roll with 37 per cent of its members qualifying.

The future became a reality for seniors as 65 per cent of them made plans to attend college.

Class of '72 officers ... Roxie Scott, vice-president; Debbie Maxwell, secretary; Jim Bureman, president; Karen Tyree, treasurer.

Commencement '72:

1,158 receive hhs diplomas at graduation

It took less than one hour for the 1,158 graduates of the Class of '72 to receive their diplomas — only a short 55 minutes to sum up the 138,600 hours that each of the graduates had spent in school from the time he began kindergarten to his June 7 commencement day.

But school days for most of these graduates were not over. Aware that education must be pursued in order to solve the world's problems, the Class of '72 committed itself to the motto, "May we strive to further our learning, understanding, and love of our neighbors — distant and near — that we can make this world an eventual family of man." Approximately 66 per cent of the graduates indicated plans for 81 different careers that involved higher learning.

One tenth of the class received scholarships, one tenth enter the military services, and one fifth planned technical careers.

Top Left ... Kim Levine, Invocation; Top Right ... James E. Bureman, Class Host; Center Left ... Donna May, Benediction; Center Right ... Alexander Grant, Class Speaker; Above Left ... Mr. Laurence J. Fuqua, Principal; Above ... Mr. Robert Bischof, President, Board of Education; Left ... Dr. C. O. McDonald, Superintendent.

you're the funniest and wisest
person I've ever met.
Good luck always you
unt. for all always love
you. Good luck again.
and for your number one
on my list.

Love pecky Kwan,
Rady McFar

Joy
You can't ever forget our Senior English class or I'll rape you! (look out)
You are truly a nice girl and I'm glad I knew you. See you sometime!

Don't let me hear you say I can't do it
I can

I know when I am gone how soon
